

"NIGHTHAWKS" GO TO POLLS

Again Prophesied They Will Depart From Tradition.

DEPENDS ON PIGEON

Once Before Barbecue Was Staged to Keep Them Away on Election Day.

Special to this World.

TULSA, Sept. 13.—(By Special to this World.)—The "Nighthawks" are expected to vote in the general election this fall. In previous years a similar assertion has been made, but when the time for voting arrived, the "Nighthawks" have been conspicuous by their absence. Despite this fact, however, there are those who are of the opinion that this year at least there will be a great change and that among those casting their ballots will be members of this organization which has received a great deal of mention since the advent of the "Nighthawks" to Tulsa.

There are many who confuse the "Nighthawks" with the Keetowah organization, which is erroneous. While there are "Nighthawks" who belong to the Keetowah, that organization is not composed altogether of non-voters. The "Nighthawks" are different individuals who when it comes to the election, the Indian government would become obsolete, formed themselves into an organization and declared that they would not receive favors in their lands nor take any part in the elections, and except in a few hostile individual instances this declaration as regards voting has been adhered to. It appears that in previous occasions members of the organization indicated that they had decided to go to the polls, but always they changed their minds and remained absent on election day.

Among the leaders of the "Nighthawks" of this section is Jesse Pigeon of the Wannilla locality, and should this man decide to vote, it would be the means of bringing to the polls the other Indians of his section. It has been said that Pigeon has stated that he will be seen at the polls on the first Tuesday in November, but whether this report is correct remains to be proved. Pigeon for a number of years has been prominent among the fullbloods of this section, and has been the principal factor in keeping alive the old-time stamp dances. One of the most often visited dancing grounds is that but a short distance from his home and he is always present when the ceremonies are under way.

The entire "Nighthawk" organization is under a supreme leader and several years ago when it was thought that the "Nighthawks" were going to put aside their old prejudices and vote in large numbers this "head man" living in another section of the country, some miles from Tahlequah, was induced, so it is said, to give a big picnic and barbecue at which numbers of the adherents of the organization were present from various sections. So engrossed were the "Nighthawks" in the delights of the picnic, given about election time that none of them took the trouble to go to the polls. It was said that a political trick was responsible for this picnic and that the leader himself in getting ready the diversion for the purpose of keeping the members away from the voting precincts. Now, however, there is another leader and as one of the candidates for county office, it is regarded as a fullblood Indian it is said that the erstwhile stubbornly opposed members of the "Nighthawk" band will turn out and take their places in voters in case they should do this the republican party in Cherokee county will be several hundred votes to the good.

THE HAPPIEST WOMAN IN STATE

So Mrs. Poe Says After Tanlac Restores Health
—Gains 30 Pounds

"The results I have gotten from Tanlac are so wonderful that I feel compelled to tell everybody about it," said Mrs. John Poe, 691 Third street, Pekin, Ill., "and my recovery, after fifteen years suffering, has made me the happiest woman in Illinois."

"Why, everything I ate caused me agony. Gas pressed up around my heart so I would faint, and when I recovered consciousness I would be limp as a rag. Lots of times my neighbors came in thinking I was going to die. I also suffered with rheumatism so bad I would have to lie for days at a time with my legs in a pillow in chair, and my shoulders were so stiff and painful I could hardly use my arms. I could hardly sleep at all and have stayed awake many a night from pain."

"My husband urged me to try Tanlac and the way it restored my health was the greatest surprise that I ever had. Why, I have gained thirty pounds since I began taking it. My troubles have disappeared completely and I feel as splendid as when I was a girl. I just feel like I owe my life to Tanlac and I only wish I had known of it long ago."

Tanlac is sold in Tulsa exclusively by the Quaker and Puritan Drug companies.—Adv.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Georges Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, returned to the United States today aboard the French liner La Lorraine, promising to make short work of Battling Levinsky, whom he meets here October 12, and then to go after Jack Dempsey, world champion. He declared himself angered over criticism of the American press because he had not fought on his previous visit to this city. He promised he would do no more work in the moving picture business until he has met Jack Dempsey, which he hopes will take place early next year.

KIWANIS PROVE APT ADVERTISERS

Tulsa Spirit Was in the Air at Oklahoma City
Convention

Local Kiwanians who attended the Oklahoma-Texas district convention at Oklahoma City September 6 and 7, returned here today, bringing with them a spirit of enthusiasm which is not composed altogether of non-voters. The "Nighthawks" are different individuals who when it comes to the election, the Indian government would become obsolete, formed themselves into an organization and declared that they would not receive favors in their lands nor take any part in the elections, and except in a few hostile individual instances this declaration as regards voting has been adhered to. ## HIGH SCHOOL HAS BIG ENROLLMENT

More Than 1,200 Students
Attend School on
First Day

More than 1,200 students had registered in the Tulsa high school at the close of the afternoon session Monday, according to the report of Mr. C. W. Brown, principal. During the morning session reported so far, the students were divided into three classes where they remained in minutes to have books assigned and the names of text books given. The afternoon was given over to classifying late comers and changing schedules. Mr. Brown says that everything will be in readiness for regular class work Tuesday morning.

Lunch will be served Tuesday in the high school. Students and teachers on floor D will have their lunch between 10:55 and 11:15; those on floor and Annex 20 to lunch from 11:45 to 12:30; on A and C floors from 12:30 to 12:50.

The first assembly will be held Friday. At that time the seniors and freshmen will attend one period and the sophomores and juniors at another period. The assembly hall has a seating capacity of 1,650, which necessitates that division of the assembly period.

Mr. Brown says that short assemblies will be held in the assembly hall this year, which will take the place, to a large extent, of the special assemblies.

John R. Woodward, local attorney, who was elected one of the district officials during the Oklahoma City convention, thanked the Tulsa club for its hearty support to his endeavors to land the office, and declared the convention was one of the greatest meetings he had ever attended for fostering the spirit of Kiwanis.

The club was unanimous in declaring that the address of Rev. Abel on the fifth during the model luncheon served by the Tulsa club, was one of the most masterly talks ever delivered at a club convention.

One of the features of the Tulsa club's luncheon was an impromptu "holistic" supper right after the luncheon was completed. Due to its suddenness and its originality, it brought down the house. Requests have been received by the local club to duplicate the "holistic" four clubs in some of the towns and cities surrounding Tulsa. It was a stent well planned and carefully executed.

Man Leaving Street Car Is Hit by Auto and Seriously Hurt

Disregarding all "safety first" signs, an unidentified Cadillac late yesterday afternoon ran down E. T. Peel, at the corner of Lincoln and Broadway in Sand Springs, just as he was stepping off an interurban car. Peel was thrown to one side and knocked unconscious, but the Cadillac never so much as shook. He sped. The injured man was rushed to his home where it was discovered that he had a large hole in his skull. He had not regained consciousness late last night and attending physicians declared that he had a slim chance for his life.

Peel is a conductor for the Sand Springs Railway company.

Charlie Chaplin's Wife Will Drop Divorce Suit for Her Share of Estate

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Mildred Harris Chaplin, wife of movie star, has decided to drop divorce proceedings and sue to obtain a half interest in her husband's estate, estimated at $1,000,000. It was announced today.

Mrs. Chaplin's attorney, Henry G. Goldsmith, said if a settlement satisfactory to Mrs. Chaplin could not be arranged then she would sue for a half interest in the property she owned in the ground in a British subject who has threatened to go back to England and never return.

Mrs. Chaplin said their marital troubles were due to her husband's meanness, which she liked to talk about and wanted to put on paper.

But Mrs. Chaplin's using any sleep account of her troubles, which were to be subject of a conference between attorneys for both sides this afternoon. When reached by the Tulsa Tribune by telephone, where he answers to the name of "Mr. Spence," he said he wanted to sleep and could not be disturbed until 1 o'clock.

As Miss Opel-Griswold, an Oklahoma City visitor, was waiting at Curtis field for the return of the airplane bearing Mrs. Charles E. LaRue, another plane descended from the blue sky above, bumped its way along the ground to a dead stop a few feet from where she stood and out stepped her mother, Mrs. Geo. Heikathorn, who had that morning expressed a decided distaste for airplanes.

Miss Griswold could scarcely believe her eyes and "Why, mother!" was all that she could say when she was able to say anything. The explanation of the unexpected appearance proved quite simple. Mrs. Heikathorn, with Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Layman, wishing to witness the ascent of Mrs. LaRue, drove by mistake to the Curtis field, where a pilot offered to convey one of the party post haste in time for the "send off."

FIRST CHAPEL IS HELD AT KENDALL

Formal Opening of Kendall College Monday Morning

"College is a preparation for life, not an experience separate from real life," Mayor T. D. Ryan said, Kendall college students Monday morning. The first chapel service which marked the formal opening of the school year, the first assistance offered the students was that Tulsa will be kept open for the sake of the students and young people, if for no other reason, and that streets in the Kendall district will be paved.

Superintendent E. E. Oberholzer, delivering an address of welcome to the student body in behalf of the city schools, declared that it meant much to Tulsa to have a college to which students could go from their high school course.

Rev. L. L. Hannon of the ministerial alliance, in the name of the churches of the city, invited Kendall students to church services and work. He reminded them that spiritual development is found in the church, as physical and mental in school, and spoke of Tulsa's good fortune in having a Christian college in its midst.

The response to the speaker of welcome was made by Prof. Franklin G. Hill, dean of the college, and a brief address was given by President J. M. Gordon.

Scripture reading was a charge of Rev. Robert H. Clark, pastor of the Kendall community church, and devotionals by Rev. S. R. Gordon, president emeritus of the college. Musical numbers on the program were a violin solo by Prof. Adolph Kramer, head of the department of violin, and a vocal solo by Mrs. H. J. Muggs, a vocal solo of the department of voice.
